Since the beginning of my professional career, I was always between design and technology. I was growing in both areas - frontend engineering and ux design. After some time I took a hat of a product lead position. I've learned to work with customer feedback and scoping. On top of that, I started working with design systems which is my apple of the eye.

With my experience and knowledge, I'm able to feel comfortable moving around every stage of building a product and feature, as well as leading and managing teams.

PROFFESIONAL EXPERIENCE
